Register now for the GAA Seminar, Annual Meeting and Banquet

Angus enthusiasts are invited to attend the 2017 Georgia Angus Association (GAA) Seminars, Annual Meeting and Banquet set for Saturday, January 21, 2016. The events will be held at a new location - The UGA Livestock Arena in Athens.

The day will get started with a line-up of speakers and the opportunity to interact with industry leading vendors. Registration and trade show will start at 1 p.m. with the first speaker beginning at 2 p.m. The GAA Seminar is free to everyone and invites any Angus breeder, commercial cattleman or junior enthusiast interested in the Angus business!

The GAA is very fortunate to have Dr. Larry Corah, recently retired vice president of Certified Angus Beef, as the first speaker. He will be speaking on how CAB and Angus genetics are impacting the beef industry. Also, Abbey Gretsch, former National FFA Officer and Georgia Junior Angus Association member, will motivate us all! These speakers and vendors will benefit all adult and junior cattlemen alike!

The GAA Annual Meeting will begin at 5:30 p.m. where committee chairpersons will recap 2016 activities, review GAA financials, approve the budget for 2016, and announce newly elected GAA Directors. Following these events, the social will begin at 6:00 p.m. followed by the banquet at 7:00 p.m. The banquet will feature a CAB prime rib dinner, presentation of awards, announcement of Miss Georgia Angus, Georgia Angus Princess, GAA Member of the Year, Georgia Angus Hall of Fame inductee, Commercial Cattleman of the Year, Keynote Speaker, and sale of the 2017-18 GAA Directory ads.

Adult buffet dinners cost $30.00 and children's (12 and under) buffet dinners cost $15.00 if purchased no later than Tuesday, January 17, 2017. All orders received after this date or at the door will cost an additional $10.00 per plate. Please pre-register for this event to help the banquet committee allow for adequate space and food. All reserved banquet tickets will be available at the door at 6:00 p.m. No refunds will be given. All pre-orders are responsible for payment.

The GAA Board of Directors hope you participate at this year's events! Come for the seminars and stay for the Annual Meeting and Banquet! If you are interested in purchasing a vendor booth for the even or if you have any questions, please contact Christy Page at 770-307-7178 or info@georgiaangus.org. Please plan to bring a door prize for the banquet!

About the Speakers

Dr. Corah assumed the role as vice president of Certified Angus Beef LLC in June of 1998. His initial responsibilities focused on creating a new supply development program to ensure product supply for the largest branded beef program in the United States. In December 2016, Dr. Corah retired from this position with the company. Prior to that, he spent time with the National Cattlemen's Beef Association (NCBA) as director of production systems and was a beef extension/research specialist at Kansas State University for 25 years.

Corah

Dr. Corah has given presentations to cattle groups in 39 states and six Canadian provinces. He served as president of the Midwest section of the American Society of Animal Science and was the 1987 recipient of the Society's Extension Award for distinguished service. Dr. Corah, a North Dakotan, completed a master's degree in ruminant nutrition at Michigan State and received his Ph.D. in reproductive physiology at the University of Wyoming.

Abbey Gretsch, an agricultural communication major at the University of Georgia, grew up on a poultry and beef operation in Lexington, Georgia.

Gretsch

Previously, she served the over 650,000 members of the National FFA Organization as the 2015-2016 Southern Region Vice President. Gretsch has been an active member of the Georgia Junior Angus Association starting in 2008. As she pursues a career in agriculture, her goal is to inspire others to play an active role in telling the story of agriculture. Her question to all is, "What's your role in the story?"

Letter from your President

Dear Friends and Fellow Angus Breeders -

Happy New Year! I hope you had a wonderful holiday season and enjoyed the season with family and friends.

With the start of the new year brings many activities of the Georgia Angus Association. I invite each of you to attend the GAA Seminar, Annual Meeting and Banquet on Saturday, January 21 at the UGA Livestock Arena in Athens. We are very excited about the line up of speakers and vendors for our seminars, and about our new location at the UGA Livestock Arena. Bringing these events to the UGA Livestock Arena will allow us to gather together in a more suitable environment for our needs. You can find more information out about these events and registration material in this newsletter. Don't forget, our banquet dress this year will be your western best!

In your newsletter, you will find several important pieces of information. First, is your ballot for the Georgia Angus Association Board of Directors. This is a very important process and I personally hope you will take the time to vote and return to the GAA office by Tuesday, January 17.

Additionally, you will find your membership dues. Please go ahead and return these dues and any updated membership information to the GAA office upon receipt. The membership is vital to this organization!

If you have any questions about any of the upcoming events or Georgia Angus activities, please feel free to contact myself or Christy at any time.

I hope to see you January 21 in Athens!

Best Wishes!

Doug Williams

GAA in search of new Angus royalty

The GAA will crown two ambassadors for the state association on January 21 during the GAA Banquet. Miss Georgia Angus is eligible to those young ladies between the ages of 15 and 21, and Georgia Angus Princess is eligible to those young ladies between the ages of 9 and 14, as of January 1, 2017. These young ladies must be a member of the Georgia Junior Angus Association and their parents must be a members of the GAA.

The role of Miss Georgia Angus and Georgia Angus Princess is to promote Angus cattle and Angus activities, and to represent the state Angus association. These ambassadors should represent the GAA and the Angus breed by attending shows, field days, banquets, meetings, etc., at their own expense.

If you are interested in serving as Miss Georgia Angus or Georgia Angus Princess, please contact Carolyn Gazda, queens committee chairperson, no later than January 15, 2017 at 706-540-2222 or gazdacattleco@bellsouth.net. This is a great opportunity for junior Angus members to get involved!

Attention Georgia Juniors . . . Time To Pay Your Dues

Anyone interested in joining the Georgia Junior Angus Association, up to 21-years-old as of January 1, 2017, can do so by returning the form below to GJAA Advisor Clay Williams. Membership fees are due annually. Any Angus exhibitor exhibiting an Angus heifer at the Georgia National Junior Livestock Show must be a Georgia Junior Angus member by February 1 to receive any additional premiums that may be awarded by the Georgia Angus Association at the show.

The GJAA will be conducting some exciting events in 2017! Don't miss out and join today!

Meet your GAA Board of Director candidates

Enclosed in this newsletter, you will find a ballot for the 2017-19 Georgia Angus Association (GAA) Board of Directors election. GAA members have the opportunity to vote for their directors by returning the enclosed ballot in the ballot envelope by January 17. Here is a brief bio on each candidate.

Todd Alford, Bowman, alongside his wife Holly and sons Ky and Chap, own and operate Alford Livestock Service and Oleo Ranch. For over a decade, the Alford's have assisted many of the top registered Angus operations throughout the country with their production sales. Todd has been involved in all stages of planning, preparing, and putting legs on many of the more prominent Angus sales in Georgia. He has served as coordinator for the Bull Power sale for the last five years. In addition to sale coordination, Todd is partial owner in Cattle In Demand, LLC an online marketing avenue. Cattle In Demand is a multi-purpose marketing firm that hosts online sales and helps coordinate live auctions for multiple breeds of cattle. Todd and his family, also run a small herd of Angus based cows with a focus of producing top end bulls for the commercial producer and a few show heifer prospects for the juniors. Todd has been around junior livestock projects all of his life and has a passion for helping the next generation of Angus breeders and beef industry leaders. Todd has attended nearly all of the NJAS in the last twelve years helping the juniors prepare their projects for that show. In 2014, Todd judged the Eastern Regional Angus showmanship contest and has put on numerous fitting and clipping demonstrations for Angus youth.

Wilkes Barnett, Washington, graduated from Washington Wilkes High School in 1989. Through middle and high school, he was an active member of Wilkes County 4-H. From 1989-1991, he attended the Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta and from 1991-1995 attended the University of Georgia where he graduated in 1995 with a arts and science degree. From 1999 to the present, Wilkes has been the president and owner of Barnett Contracting Inc., a civil excavation business that involves total site preparation around the southeastern U.S. Wilkes is the son of Marion and Vivian Barnett and is a 4th generation Barnett to farm and raise Angus cattle in Wilkes County. Barnett Angus has had a continuous registered Angus herd since 1947 where they predominantly sell 2-year-old Angus bulls. Currently, Barnett Angus is farming approximately 3,300 acres with two-thirds being pasture land and the rest is timberland. Wilkes is a member of the Episcopal Church of the Mediator in Washington, Georgia Angus Association, Georgia Cattleman's Association, Florida Cattleman's Association, Wilkes County Cattleman's Association, and Wilkes County Young Farmers Association. Wilkes says he has a strong love for Angus cattle, and plans to continue to raise Angus bulls as my father and grandfather before him did.

Alan Bridges, Lexington, is a third generation Angus breeder where he grew up on Bridges Angus Farm. During his youth, he was active in 4-H and was member of GJAA. He showed steers and heifers and was a member of the Oglethorpe County 4-H Livestock Judging team through High School. Alan is a graduate of the University of Georgia where he was a member of the Alpha Eta Chapter of Alpha Gamma Rho Fraternity. While in college, Alan managed Bridges Angus Farm and worked for his grandfather Ralph Bridges. In 2005, Alan along with his brother Phillip purchased Bridges Angus Farm, LLC from his grandparents. Today the herd is 100% A.I. and embryo transfer and Bridges Angus hosts their own Production sale in April.

George "Bubba" Burnett, Valdosta, was born on August 30, 1951 in Madison, FL and raised on a diversified cattle and tobacco farm. Bubba and his wife Kay (45 years married and going strong) are the proud parents of two daughters, one son, and four grandchildren (all boys). Bubba has been involved with registered Angus cattle for the past 30 years and actually started out selling mineral premixes for B&B Products in Tifton, GA. He now owns and operates Farmers Supply in Valdosta, GA where they spend a great amount of time servicing area cattle customers. Bubba is a member of Pinetta First Baptist Church in Pinetta, FL and has served as treasurer. Likewise, Bubba is a member of the Wiregrass Chapter of the Georgia Cattlemen's Association.

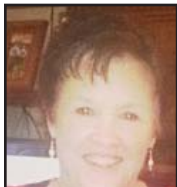

Cole Elrod, Talmo, is the husband of Stephanie Marie Elrod and the father of Halley, Kate and Hoke. He is the owner and full time manager of Elrod Farms and joint venture Elrod and Tolbert, which calves over 100 head annually. E/T cattle have earned recognition both in the showing and on feed, because of his focus on the basics. Cole is also a founding member of the newly formed Cowboy Logic marketing group. A strong supporter of youth livestock programs, serving as a chair of the Ed Tolbert Memorial Cattle Show and a past member of the Junior Livestock committee for the Georgia Cattlemen's Association. He's a past president of the Jackson County

Cattleman's Association, where he spearheaded their march to a 2nd place finish in recruiting and chapter growth in the Georgia Cattlemen's Association. He currently serves on the GCA's Executive Committee. Additionally, Elrod owns and operates North Jackson Contractors, which specializes in fencing and residential pools and also operates a seasonal hay wrapping business. From marketing seedstock to consulting commercial cattlemen and from advising youth to managing a small business, he's had his hand in it all... including the neighbors cows. A Father, a cattlemen, a breeder of Champions, small business owner and most importantly a member of Galilee Christian Church.

Carolyn Gazda, Athens, and her husband David of own Gazda Cattle Company. Carolyn has been a lifetime member of the American Angus Association since 1981 and she and David have been married since 1983. Carolyn grew up in the Georgia Junior Angus Association serving as President, Vice President, Secretary and Queen and also showed in the 1982 National Showmanship Contest in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. She was involved with the planning of the 1980 Eastern Regional Junior Angus Show that was held in Athens, Georgia in June of 1980. Carolyn has a BSA in Animal Science from the University of Georgia and a Masters Degree in Agriculture with an emphasis in Animal Breeding and a minor in Statistics from Stephen F. Austin State University in Nacogdoches, Texas. She served as the Secretary/Treasurer of the Georgia Angus Association from January of 1990 until January of 1997. She has also served two terms as President and Vice President respectively and was one of the adult co-chairs of the 2009 National Junior Angus Show. She was the advisor of the Georgia Junior Angus Association from 2003-2011. For 13 years she worked with the University of Georgia Extension Animal Science in the junior livestock program and handled all of the entries for two different specie shows for the Georgia National Fair held in October and five different specie shows for the Georgia Junior National Livestock shows held in February. She has served as Vice President of both the Georgia Club Calf Producers Association and the Georgia Cattlewomen's Association and has also served as President of the Clarke-Oconee Cattlemen's Association. She and David have two daughters, Katie and Taylor, who were lifetime members of the National Junior Angus Association from 1990 and 1992 respectively until their memberships were converted to American Angus Association memberships upon their 21st birthdays. Katie served as the 2009 Miss American Angus. They both were members of the Georgia Junior Angus Association and served in various officer positions. She and David have one grandson and future junior Angus member, Hudson.

Greg Hargis, Rocky Face, was born in Johnson City, Tennessee in 1964. His family owns and operates Hargis Angus. They have been in the cattle business since 1980 and in the Registered Angus business for the past 13 years. Greg graduated from Northwest Whitfield High School and earned a BS Degree from the University of Tennessee, a Master Degree in Education from Tusculum College, and Specialist Degree in Administration and Supervision from Lincoln Memorial. He serves as a home provider for mentally handicapped adults. Greg is married to Tracy Hargis who is a guidance counselor at the local Elementary school. They have a 5 year old daughter Jessie.

Mike Jones, West Point, was raised on registered Angus cattle farm in Virginia. He graduated from Virginia Tech with a degree in Business Management and minor in Animal Science. Mike was on the 1972 Virginia Tech Livestock Judging Team. He served from 1973-1978 as the Eastern Field Representative for The Drivers Journal.

He has been a self-employed, full-time, purebred livestock auctioneer since 1980 specializing in the marketing of Angus cattle. Mike owns and operates a small Angus herd of 40 cows in west central Georgia where he cooperates with Randy McCabe in Kansas to market bulls and sell females thru state sponsored consignment sales. He has served on the GAA Board for the past three terms where he serves on the Hall of Fame selection committee and Georgia Expo Angus Sale committee. Mike has managed the Georgia Expo Commercial Heifer Sale for past 17 years. He is interested mostly in serving the small breeders in assisting with the marketing of their good Angus cattle.

Phil Page, Jefferson, grew up on a Limousin farm where he exhibited Limousin cattle on a local, state and national level. He was a member of the FFA, Georgia Junior Limousin Association and the North American Limousin Junior Association where he served as President of the national organization in 1997. Phil is married to Christy (Bell) and they have two children - Savannah (12) and Carson (4). His family manages an Angus and Sim-Angus cattle farm in Winder, Ga., where they raise approximately 100 head of cattle annually. Additionally, they are breeding and showing purebred and commercial swine for their children who have become active members in the 4-H and FFA programs and the National Junior Swine Association. Phil currently serves as President of the Georgia Junior Livestock Foundation, just completed two terms on the GAA Board of Directors, served on the Barrow County Farm Bureau Board of Directors, and is a member of the Jackson County Cattlemen's Association, Georgia Cattlemen's Association, AAA, Georgia Simmental Association, American Simmental Association, and Jackson County Young Farmers. Outside of the agriculture community, Phil is employed by Community Health Care Services in Winder.

James Vaughn, Forsyth, is a managing partner in Vaughn Farms, L.P. which is a 425 head cattle operation including 50 purebred Angus cattle and 375 full blood Angus commercial cattle. The farm produces high quality feedlot cattle and registered and commercial seedstock. Vaughn Farms, L.P. also owns and manages commercial timberland, has 300 acres devoted to commercial hay production and raises and trains cutting horses for competition. James was born in 1956, is married to Beth Metts Vaughn and have four adult children. He graduated from Emory University in 1978 with a Bachelor of Arts Degree in History; from the University of Georgia School of Law in 1981 with a Juris Doctor Degree; and Emory University School of Law Studies LL.M. in Taxation in 1988.

James has been involved with many organizations including Chairman of the Development Authority of Monroe County; Board Member Middle Georgia Regional Commission; Vice-Chairman Central Georgia Joint Development Authority; Member of the Monroe County Hospital Authority; Past Chairman Monroe County Board of Commissioners (2009 – 2012); Past Chairman Middle Georgia Regional Roundtable; Past Member of the Board of Directors and Secretary of Middle Georgia Regional Commission; Past Chairman of Middle Georgia Regional Development Center; Past Member of the Board of Trustees of Macon State College Foundation; Past Attorney for Development Authority of Monroe County and Monroe County, Georgia; Past Chairman Monroe County Chamber of Commerce; Past Member of the Monroe County Bank Board of Directors; Past Member of the Country Bank Board of Directors; Elder, Forsyth Presbyterian Church; Member and Alumni of Georgia Agri-Leaders Forum; Alumni of Leadership Monroe; Past Member Mid-Georgia Cattleman's Board of Directors; Middle Georgia Cattleman's Association's Pure-bred Cattleman of the Year 1998; Member Georgia Cattleman's Association; Member Georgia Forestry Association; Member National Cutting Horse Association; Member American Quarter Horse Association. James is a Partner in law firm of Vaughn, Wright & Boyer LLP specializing in commercial transactions and commercial litigation.

Adam Verner, Smithville, his wife, Megan, and daughter, Keeley, are partners together with his parents at Verner Farms, LLC. He is a fifth generation cattleman on the family farm where they currently run 120 head of purebred Angus cows, and a few Red Angus, Gelbvieh Balancers, and Hereford cows. Adam graduated from UGA with a degree in Animal Science and Dairy Science in 2003 and also competed on the UGA Livestock judging team. After college, he moved to Adel, GA, where he worked for the next two years as herdsman at Circle G Ranches. Working under Tom Dalby, Adam looked after 500 head of Angus cows and all aspects of the farming operation. Since that time, he has spent time in MN, NE, TX and OK working on a vast variety of cattle operations. For 5 years, Adam and his wife managed the Bull Power group's bulls for the yearly sale. This includes all day to day feeding, treating, and sale management. Verner Farms is a very diverse operation consisting of the purebred cattle herd, commercial breeding hens, and a large scale haying operation. Currently Adam is the managing partner of Elite Ag, LLC in Leesburg, which is a full service ag equipment dealership that specializes in the equipment needed for beef, dairy and hay operations in the southeast. Adam says he believes that the Angus breed and the association must continue to establish itself as the gold standard for the cattle business.
